Vail, Colorado has long been synonymous with all-things luxury and world class-skiing, and if you're looking to post up in some some spacious (read: socially distant) and seriously luxurious digs on your next visit, this brand new penthouse might be right up your alley.

Located at The Sebastian – Vail, in the heart of Vail Village, the new slope-side residence called Grand Galerie Penthouse spans more than 5,300 square feet, and featuring panoramic views over Vail Mountain and the Gore Range and a boat-load of incredible amenities and artwork, is primed to usher in a new level of luxury to this already prestigious locale.

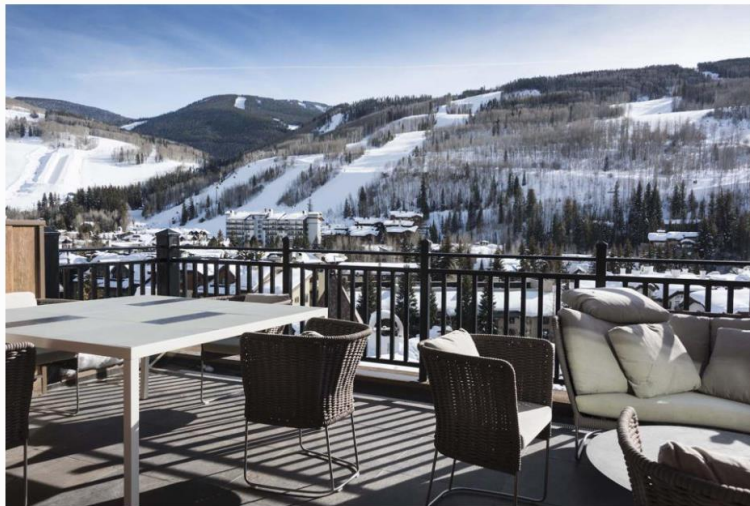

“Given the increased demand in the travel market for professionally managed and serviced residences for both families and travel pods, The Sebastian – Vail made the strategic decision to offer this exclusive penthouse residence as part of its hospitality portfolio,” Bryan Austin, general manager of The Sebastian – Vail told Forbes. “Travelers looking to enjoy Vail with their loved ones now have the option to enjoy a private, expansive residence in a luxury resort setting.”

Capable of accommodating up to 12-guests at a time, the residence includes five-bedrooms each equipped with their own private en-suite bathroom as well as a spacious living room for après-skiing, a plush media room for Netflix and chilling and a washer and dryer which will definitely come in handy after a full day on the slopes.

While the exquisite design touches and world-class artwork will be a big part of the draw for travelers here, the amenities that come with booking a stay are also noteworthy.

From a 24-hour personal concierge to a slope-side ski valet service at the property's Base Camp, guests of the penthouse residence will also be treated to private ski boot fittings as well as have access to the hotel's year-round heated mountain-view pool, hot tubs, state-of-the-art treatments at Bloom Spa and two on-site restaurants, Leonora and Lounge at Leonora.

Perhaps one of the biggest perks that comes with a stay in The Grand Galerie Penthouse is the exclusive food and beverage experience with daily provisions delivered directly from The Sebastian – Vail's Executive Chef, Tyson Peterson.

To top it off, a welcome basket featuring gourmet bites from local purveyors paired with a bottle of sparkling wine is also included upon arrival.

“The Grand Galerie Penthouse is Vail's most exclusive and exceptional accommodation available to travelers,” General Manager Bryan Austin said. “From its meticulously designed interiors with sweeping views of the surrounding mountains to its graciously sized balcony and gallery-worthy works of art displayed throughout, it's the ideal home base for any travel group to gather, relax and reconnect after a day exploring the area's countless adventures.”

Exceptional is certainly the operative word here considering a stay here starts at $18,000 per night. If you're interested in booking, or for more information, you can contact The Sebastian Reservations Team directly.
